And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

It is not often in West Texas that you hear people talking about too much moisture but this seems to be one of those rare years. Since no one can remember ever having this much wet weather before, it is impossible to predict what the outcome will be, crop-wise.

But already it has been rough on the livestock and some of last year's cotton crop is still in the fields. How the wheat will come out with this much cold wet weather is a real problem, and, if it does not stop one of these days, it could even be a problem for the cotton farmers.

This is West Texas — the land of extremes.

This is written Tuesday morning and we can just imagine how much fun the kids will have today with no school and the best snowball making snow we have seen in a long time. We found this out Monday evening when we got out in the yard and played with our youngest son for a little while.

Supt. Cook is still having a hard time out-guessing the weather this year as he calls off school only to have the day dawn bright and clear and the sun shining. But we understand that the attendance was poor Monday and the roads in the country were drifted over to a large extent.

We have never been able to get too upset by the efforts being made to register guns or at least curtailing the mail order sale of weapons. It would seem that a reasonable law might be enacted that could solve some of the problems without creating any real hardship on anyone.

But it always seems that when do-gooders start working on something they never seem to know where to stop.

According to "The American Rifleman" the trend has grown from just registering guns to outlawing hunting altogether.

The Detroit Daily Press urged that hunting be prohibited in these unrealistic words.

Even those hunters who consider themselves sportsmen have no legitimate need to maintain guns at home. Hunting and shooting clubs could be licensed and supervised with guns maintained on the premises. As for hunting in the woods and mountains, we think this barbaric practice should be outlawed as well. The day is past when men must hunt for their game. That's what we have butcher shops for.

About the same time, the Asbury Park (New Jersey) Free Press came to this remarkable conclusion.

"The yearly death and accident rate among hunters and innocent civilians indicates that hunting should be outlawed."

The Asbury Park publication did not, of course, reveal to its readers what the rate actually is. But we shall remove the blindfold.

On page 72 of the latest edition of "Accident Facts," published by the National Safety Council, outdoor accidents include hunting as follows:

"Firearms — 900 (deaths) 0.5 (rate per 100,000 population)."

Just above this rate that the Asbury Park paper didn't divulge is the rate for drownings, exclusive of boat and home accidents. It makes an interesting contrast.

"Drowning — 4,400 (deaths) 2.3 (rate per 100,000 population)."

In short, drowning killed nearly five times as many persons as hunting accidents, but one could hardly expect a seashore resort newspaper to publish that.

Out here in this part of the country, it is hard to imagine anyone thinking about outlawing hunting; but these are the same type people that seem to think you can stop the war in Vietnam by just tucking your tail and going to the peace table. This makes about as much sense as going to the peace table with the crime syndicate and hoping to stop crime in the country.

judging team, was named fifth high individual in the livestock judging contest. Other members of the team are Randy George, John Hix and David Wallace. They plan to compete at Angelo State College this weekend.

reading Monday morning was .43. The moisture from the snow was .66, bringing the three day total to 1.23.

HemisFair Workmen In Race With Clock to Meet April 6 Opening, But Are Expected to Make It

SAN ANTONIO. — The countdown clock is moving closer and closer to opening day and workmen are picking up the tempo in a bustle of activity to make sure HemisFair '68 is ready for its millions of visitors.

With less than a month to go, first-time visitors find it hard to believe the World's Fair will meet its April 6 deadline. Others who visit the grounds on a regular basis are amazed at the speed at which the $156 million showplace is taking shape.

Landscaping is going in on the banks of the lagoons. The mini-monorail made its maiden voyage around the 92.6-acre grounds the first of the month, and the Swiss Skyride continued its 1,000-passenger per day average. Workmen are still busy on the exteriors of some of the multitude of structures, but more are tucked away inside preparing exhibits.

In all, HemisFair '68 is a flurry of activity, and as each day clicks off the countdown clock, the eyes of the world focus more and more on the six-month World's Fair.

The race with the clock to be prepared to meet the millions of World's Fair visitors was obvious in the words of Marshall Steves, president of HemisFair, in his recent report to the board of directors.

"It will be ready on time," he said. "We may be backing out the gate with paintbrushes, but it'll be ready on time."

The $13 million civic center complex built by the city of San Antonio is ready for the opening. The 10,000-seat arena was the site a month ago for a performance by the Harlem Globetrotters. The San Antonio boat show was held in the huge exhibit hall, and the seats have been installed in the 2,800-seat theater awaiting the first performance of the opera "Don Carlo" to inaugurate the beautiful structure.

Many pavilions are completed and truckloads of exhibits are rolling up daily to others. The 622-foot Tower of the Americas, focal point of the downtown World's Fair, is scheduled for completion at mid-month; the $6.75 million federal pavilion is substantially completed and carpet is being installed; and workmen are installing the 42 different movie screens in the overhead portion of the $10 million Institute of Texan Cultures.

The nearness of the opening is pointed up in more ways than construction and countdown clocks.

Visitors Services, Inc. reports its daily telephone and mail load tripling as vacation planners from throughout the western hemisphere write for reservations. Although meeting 100 per cent success in filling those requests, VSI now asks those inquiring to offer a choice of several dates, if possible, if they desire rooms close to the Fair.

More than $2 million in tickets to the Fair have been sold and the peak is not expected until this month. The response in both departments has led officials to believe the estimate of 7.5 million persons attending the Fair is conservative.

Neinda Philosopher Comes Up With Brand New Idea to Help Cities Solve Traffic Problems

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One comes up with an idea this week which probably requires additional study.

Dear editor:

Excusing maybe Viet Nam, riots, and teenagers, for every problem there's usually a solution, and it was with considerable interest I read about a solution for the garbage disposal problem in big cities in a newspaper somebody threw out of his car near this Johnson grass farm yesterday.

According to it, cities would no longer depend on men and trucks to pick up garbage, thus eliminating the inconveniences of flat tires and strikes and banging cans around in the early morning hours. Every house and apartment would be tied into a special garbage-disposal pipe. When garbage collects, you put it in a special plastic bag, drop it in, and it's automatically shot through the pipe and right on out of town to the garbage dump 15 or 20 miles away. The whole thing is simple, and I'll bet Gov. Rockefeller wishes it had been thought up sooner.

But cities shouldn't stop there. Take the automobile problem. Everybody knows the car, with its traffic jams and sheer mathematical impossibility of finding enough parking room, is making city life almost impossible. A man can now cross New York faster on foot than he can by car, and what the gasoline fumes are doing is even worse.

As I understand it, the car was invented to eliminate the horse, but it hasn't worked out that way; it eliminates more people in one day than it does horses in a year. How many horses were killed in traffic accidents last year?

But cities shouldn't dispar.

Why don't they adapt this new pipeline garbage disposal idea to people? You wouldn't want to get the two systems mixed up, but why not build a separate pipeline for people and transport everybody by pneumatic tube?

Every morning, a wife could zip her husband up in a plastic bag, drop him in the chute, and 30 seconds later he'd pneumatically appear in his office. No traffic problems, no gasoline fumes, no congestion, no waiting on elevators, peace and quite in the streets. At quitting time, he puts his plastic bag back on, crawls in the pipe, and is shot home immediately.

The system will work. All it'd take is a little special training of wives in remembering which pipeline to use every morning. Wouldn't want garbage arriving in the office and the husbands at the dump, except in some special cases which I won't go into.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"REMEMBER, GRANDPA, WHEN..."

How Grandpa loves to hear that young voice say those magic words that mean, "We had good times together! I appreciate all the wonderful things you did for me when you were younger and able." Old folks love attention. They need it. They deserve to have it. They've spent their lives helping us, many times at the expense of their own desires and plans.

God commands us in Leviticus 19:32: "Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man, and fear thy God. I am the Lord."

Honor the older ones, too, by attending church this week and taking them with you.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

County Agent Urges Planting Good Grade Seed

With planting time at hand, Jones County farmers are reminded that the planting seed used can have much to do with yields at harvest time.

County Agent Kirby Clayton points out that seed bargains are usually expensive and cheap seed may be a source of weed seeds, low in quality and doubtful as to variety.

In the overall cost of growing a crop, seed is a minor item regardless of whether it is the cheapest or most expensive at the time of purchase, adds the county agent. Too, he says, research and farm demonstrations year after year have shown the best seed available are the best buy.

The few cents more per acre spent for top quality planting seed is mighty cheap insurance against yield and quality losses from a crop, says Clayton.

To obtain quality seed, the county agent suggests checking the tag attached to the seed bag to make sure the seed is clean and free of weed seed, is not mixed and is of a recommended and adapted variety. Also check the germination information. It should be high enough to insure a good stand

AUSTIN — Rural areas are surprising the experts on voter registration.

Preliminary figures submitted to Comptroller Robert S. Calvert show that the first 100 counties to report on their voters, all smaller counties, had a 63.5 per cent gain over last year.

Estimates by tax collectors in the three largest counties — Harris, Dallas and Bexar — indicate gains of only 13.6, 31.7 and 18 per cent.

Some of the increase in rural counties is due to the fact that voters over age 60 in rural areas and towns under 10,000 now must register to vote. Heretofore, they could vote without registering.

It is estimated that the number of qualified voters in Texas will exceed 4,000,000 this year. Final figures will not be in until April 1, the date that county reports are due.

SCHOOL COSTS RISING —Local school districts' share of the minimum foundation school program for next year will be $5,800,000 higher than the current level.

However, only 74 districts actually will have to pay a bigger share of teacher salaries, maintenance and operation costs of schools, bus transportation and Texas Education Agency operating expenses. In fact 157 will pay less.

Total estimated cost for the minimum foundation school program this year has grown to $739,112,195. Local fund assignment is $159,600,000.

State Board of Education approved a new economic index on which each local district's share is calculated, selected textbooks for 23 subjects and all grades, and endorsed a plan for spending $737,950 in federal funds to aid handicapped children. While the bulk of the money would be spent in larger school districts, Victoria, Huntsville, Mount Pleasant, San Angelo and Midland will obtain $8,400 each to effect special education plans for handicapped youngsters in rural and sparsely-settled areas.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING URGED — Need for improved vocational-technical education to train the unemployed for paying jobs is being spotlighted in Texas as never before.

Virtually all major candidates for governor are proposing this as one way to trim welfare rolls, raise more taxes, curb the danger of riots and reduce crime.

Both House and Senate committees are conducting hearings and studies on how best to expand training courses and improve techniques.

Gov. John Connally gave job training facilities a major boost by endorsing an application of the Lower Rio Grande Valley Development Council for a $9,000,000 federal grant to build and operate a new technical institute at Harlingen Air Force Base.

Connally said he feels that most such training probably should be handled through the junior college system. But he described area problems as so urgent that waiting for development of a system was not feasible.

He said he will recommend to the next legislature an equity for car. Payments $55 month. 509 N. W. Ave. H.

appropriate state agency to run the new institute permanently. Meanwhile, he recommended that Texas A & M University and James Connally Technical Institute at Waco operate the Harlingen facilities.

Last year the legislature appropriated $5,200,000 to buy facilities and equipment at James Connally Air Force Base to launch the state's first program of this kind.

Funds from the Federal Manpower Development Training Act will finance 90 per cent of the Harlingen facility's cost — at least until June 30, 1969.

BARRERA NAMED STATE SECRETARY — Roy Barrera, 41-year-old San Antonio attorney, is John Hill's successor as secretary of state. Hill resigned last month to devote full time to his race for governor.

Governor Connally named Barrera to the $24,000-a-year job. His duties include service as the governor's top liaison man and as the chief state election officer.

Barrera is a member of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, is a former chief prosecutor in the Bexar County district attorney's office and is ex-president of the board of trustees of Edgewood Independent School District.

COURTS SPEAK — Fining of 22 whites for staging a civil rights sit-in at Cafe Raven in Huntsville was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals. Same court also upheld the death penalty conviction of Tommy R. Vessels for rape of a Gray County woman and ordered a new trial in a fatal stabbing case.

State Supreme Court ordered a Bexar County trial to determine whether a group of San Antonio stockholders in the Uvalde Rock Asphalt Company has the right to inspect the firm's books and records.

Third Court of Civil Appeals reversed an additional workmen's compensation award to a Comal County woman hurt on the job because her lawsuit petition appealing the Industrial Accident Board decision was filed one day late.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held that county commissioners courts may not legally sell to private concerns for commercial purposes duplicate copies of magnetic tape containing names of registered voters.

However, Martin said that county tax assessor-collectors and their deputies can prepare on their own time and sell copies of the registered voter list, providing the "moonlighting" does not interfere with regular duties.

In a separate opinion, Martin concluded that the State Liquor Control Board must turn down liquor license applications from persons who have not been Texas residents for the past three years.

GOVERNOR PREPARING BUDGET — With a view toward that special legislative session just around the corner, Governor Connally is putting final touches on his budget recommendations this year.

Connally still declines to be pinned down on the session date, but he volunteered one significant prediction: The new tax bill at this time appears to be shaping up in the $125,000,000 to $135,000,000 range.

Legislative Budget Board previously gave tentative approval to spending for 1969 which would require some $122,800,000 in additional taxes, LBB general fund budget so far totals $468,500,000. Governor's will be higher.

Cotton Pickin's

By ROLLING PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The annual meeting of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. will be held in the auditorium of Stamford High School on Friday, March 22, beginning at 1:00 p.m.

In order to interest wives of the members of the Growers' organization, the program will include a talk by Mrs. L. B. McDowell of McAdoo, Texas, chairman of the Women's District Cotton Promotion Association, and a style show sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Other speakers on the program will include John A. Baker of Washington, D. C., Assistant Secretary of Agriculture; Representative Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls, congressman from the 13th district; Joe B. Pate, Jr., Lubbock cotton farmer who is chairman of the new Texas Association of Cotton Producers Organizations, and J. B. Cooper, Jr., Roscoe cotton farmer and president of RPCG.

The style show will feature models wearing garments made of cotton fabrics. Most of the items to be modeled will be manufactured here in Stamford by a firm that supplies a number of exclusive shops in the Southwest with women's and girls' dresses and other apparel.

Also, there will be other entertainment features including refreshments during a break in activities expected to be concluded by 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. McDowell, who heads a district organization of women in the Plains area, outlined at a recent meeting of the RPCG's directors how women are getting results in promoting cotton products in retail stores. She emphasized that the program is not aimed at banning synthetics but to promote cotton and cotton goods.

"We have had inquiries from women about the women's groups since Mrs. McDowell discussed the program at a recent meeting here of RPCG directors," said Charles Bragg, executive vice president of the growers' group. "We want the women in the 33 counties comprising our association to have a chance to hear details of this program which can promote a better over-all economy in West Texas."

The talk by Chairman Pate of TACPO will outline the cooperative objectives of six Texas grower organizations working together for improved communication, better understanding and unity of action.

The organization is composed of the Plains and Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, South Texas Cotton and Grain Association, Blackland Cotton and Grain Association, Trans-Pecos Cotton Association and El Paso Valley Cotton Association, formed at the annual meeting of the National Cotton Council last January in Oklahoma City.

Assistant Agriculture Secretary Baker, who will address the meeting, directs six agencies in the USDA, including Farmer Cooperative Service, Farmers Home Administration, Forest Service, Rural Community Development Service, Rural Electrification Administration and Soil Conservation Service.

Congressman Purcell, elected to the 87th Congress in a special election January 27, 1962, has held membership on the House Agriculture Com-

Agent Says Buy Large Bags of Fertilizer to Save

Buying fertilizer for the lawn and garden need not be a task. Saving money may be important, but the economics of buying a few bags of fertilizer are not as important as buying quantities, points out County Agent Kirby Clayton. However, he adds, you can save by avoiding small packages.

You may pay 10 to 20 times more for fertilizer in the one-pound size compared to an 80-pound bag. Farm-sized bags of 80 pounds are not too much fertilizer for anyone with a vegetable garden, flower beds and lawns, says the county agent.
